WHAT THEY THINK

The following tribute to the quality of the work turned out from our presses speaks for itself and needs no comment on our part:

Stowers, Tenn., Sept 22.

W B Crinshaw,
Wartburg Tenn.

Dear Sir; Just received the stationery and I am well pleased with the work. You will find inclosed my check in payment for the same. May long live the Morgan County Press. Every family in Morgan County should read the Press every week.

Yours ever,

Wm Henry.

Last Thought Was His Mother.

To prevent his aged mother from being shocked by his terrible injuries sustained in an accident, John Grady of Belfast, when carried to his home the other day, began to sing with apparent light-heartedness. He was a lineman, and while repairing some wires a current of 4,000 volts was accidentally turned into them. Both of Grady's arms were burned off near the elbow, and one leg was burned to the bone before he was rescued. As he was being carried into his home he sang "Top o' the Mornin'," a favorite song of his aged mother. She came down to meet him, and he called to her cheerily that he had been slightly burned, and spired her the shock as much as he could. He died a few hours later.

JAPANESE AUCTION IS TAME

Even the Auctioneer Has Nothing to Say, and Bids Are Made in Writing.

An un-American Japanese auction is a kind of Oriental prayer meeting. People do not exactly wait for the spirit to move them before making a bid, but they go about as silently as if meditating in a Lenten retreat. Nobody has anything to say, or if he has he exercises a powerful restraint over his emotions and refrains from saying it. Even the auctioneer holds his tongue. Every article that he offers for sale is simply held up for inspection.

The wondrous vocabulary with which Occidental auctioneers proclaim the merits of their wares has no place in a Japanese auction room. The dramatic thrill of "going, going, gone" is never felt. Purchasers write their bids on a slip of paper and send it up by a page. There is no hurry. Everybody has time to count his change and make up his mind how much he can afford to pay.

When the bids are all in the auctioneer coolly turns over the article to the clerk with the highest bidder's offer and takes up the next thing on the list. Unless people wish to talk afterward nobody will ever know what anybody else bid, not even the price paid by the successful bidder.

ANCIENT QUARREL IS OVER

Two Old Sardinian Families Publicly End Feud That Had Lasted for Centuries.

A ceremony the like of which had not been seen for centuries has just taken place in Sardinia, the cradle of the Italian vendetta. It was a solemn public reconciliation of two ancient families, the Orecchioni and the Card. who had been in feud since the middle ages.

A dispute over a question of family honor between these widely ramified houses has led to countless acts of vengeance and those who shirked fighting had to take refuge abroad.

In 1844 a reconciliation committee was formed by the bishops of Tempio and Ozieri, the prefect and the commander of the carabinieri and many other notables of the island, but it effected nothing.

It may be that even the Italian vendetta is influenced by modern notions; at all events a solemn reconciliation of the families has been effected before the bishops in the cathedral of Santa Teresa. The present heads of the two families, Advocate Orecchioni and Cavaliere Card, publicly embraced amid cheers from thousands of Sardinian throats.

From all parts of the island came congratulatory messages. To break this peace would be in the eyes of the people an act of sacrilege.

No Dust, No Light.

Diffusion of light through the atmosphere is due to thousands of millions of dust-atoms floating in it. The finest dust floats highest, and imparts the tint of blue to the heavens. Were it not for dust the sky by day would appear black, and the moon and stars would be visible. All shadows would then be inky black. Everything would appear differently. It is not "the light" we see, but simply reflections caused by motes of dust, as when a ray of sunlight enters a dark room through a hole in the shutters. Millions of dust particles catch the light, reflecting it back and forth from one another, so making the atmosphere luminous.

Dust Disease.

Now that we have the "typhoid fly" and the "malaria mosquito," science may soon order that not a few of those who experience a blue Monday be described as sufferers from "dust depression." Good physicians assert that much of the mental and physical languor which many people of indoor life report on Monday is due to their tremendous intake of dust on the day before. This powder is full of physical peril. It may actually have those disease germs which set up systematic disturbances, the effects of which we commonly call colds; it may, by merely piling in dirt and filth, so irritate the mucous membrane as to do other serious harm. It is a troublemaker in any form.—Boston Herald.

Tall Australian Trees.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but while California trees are of gigantic dimensions they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340 feet high. Australia's record tree can beat this by 140 feet. Baron Mueller (formerly government botanist of Victoria) recently measured the giant where it grew at Blacks Spur, ten miles from Healesville, and found it to be 480 feet. This tree was 31 feet in girth near the root.

CHANCERY SALE OF LAND.

In obedience to a decree of the Chancery Court at Wartburg, made in the case of C A Crenshaw vs. John C Francis et al, and Jung Brewing Co. vs John C Francis et al Nos. 1563 and 1564, consolidated causes, I will on Saturday, Oct. 7, 1916, at noon in front of the Court house do in Wartburg, sell to the highest and best bidder, the following described land situated in the 10th Civil District of Morgan county, Tennessee, in the town of Oakdale, to-wit:

"Lot Nos. 11, 12 and 13 in Block No. 2 and of lots Nos 21 and 22 in Block No. 1 Patching's addition to the town of Oakdale.

Also another certain lot in the town of Oakdale, beginning on the south side of River View street at corner of lot No. 22 block No. 1 Patching's addition to Oakdale, then with said street 75 feet to another stone on side of said street back to the place of beginning. Starting again at corner of lot No. 22 and running along and with the line of said lot southwardly 100 ft. to the south east corner of lot No. 22 then on a straight line a continuation of the west line of lot No 22 to the meanders of Emory River, then down and with the same 75 ft. to a stone, then in a straight line and parallel with the west line of lot No 22 back to second corner on River View Street 75 ft. from the beginning, then a direct line to the beginning.

Also another lot or small parcel of land which is bounded on the north by the property of Ben Furman; on the south by Mrs Berger; on the east by the pike road; on west by an alley about 8 ft wide and adjoining the property owned on said west side by Mrs D. L. Delk."

Said sale will be on a credit of six months, and in bar of the equity of redemption.

Said first six described lots will first be sold separately and then as a whole, and if they do not bring enough to pay the judgments together with all of the costs, then the last described lot will be sold as provided in said decree, to which reference is here made.

This September 5, 1916.
